The kits for countertop, stove, sink and oven front add the detail lacking in many miniature kitchens. All pieces are designed by famed artisan John R. Adams who captures the detail of the pieces' real life counterparts.

Aaron Burr Desk
Walnut
1854

An article in the 1911 New York Herald stated that Aaron Burr had challenged Alexander Hamilton to a duel in a letter written on a side table similar to this metamorphic one that converts to a desk and chair. In fact this desk was patented by Stephen Hedges fifty years after the duel but the desk has always been known as the Aaron Burr Desk.

The Ohio Clock
Walnut

Senator David Daggett ordered the clock from Thomas Voigt in 1815. Starting in 1817 this clock stood in the old Senate chamber. Since 1859 it has held its current post outside the chamber's south door. No one knows why it is called the "Ohio" clock since it was made in Philadelphia. One theory is that it commemorates Ohio becoming the 17th state because the case's shell has 17 stars.

Thonet Bentwood Chair

This chair designed by Michael Thonet (1796-1871) shows off his technique of softening wood with steam and molding it for chair components. The curvaceous but open and uncluttered look to this chair is prescient of 20th century modernism. It is often referred to as the "bistro chair" and is one of the most popular chair designs of all time.

Sgabello Chair/Italy 1489

Sgabello is an Italian term for a specific type of backstool typical of the Italian Renaissance. They generally have an octagonal seat with a long back splat which was often carved with a family's imprese or emblem drawn from its coat-of-arms. They would often be placed in hallways; their primary purpose was not lounging comfort.

Sutherland Drop Leaf Table Mahogany

The Sutherland table was named for Harriet, Duchess of Sutherland (1806-1868) Queen Victoria's Mistress of the Robes. It is a type of gate-leg table characterized by a narrow center that when folded can be stored against a wall without taking up much space. This one has twin carved baluster uprights on cabriole feet connected by stretchers.

Rising Sun Armchair Mahogany

George Washington used this chair during the Constitutional Convention in 1787. It was designed by John Folwell in 1779. On the last day of the convention Benjamin Franklin declared the sun enshrined on the chair to be a rising sun, not a setting sun. By this he meant that the sun would continue to shine over the United States. The sun represents the birth or rise of America. The chair is now in Independence Hall in Philadelphia.

Vict. Show Frame Sofa

LouisXV Conversation Set
Mahogany

The French furniture style of Louis XV flourished between 1730 -1775. It pays homage to the feminine form with its use of curves; the legs are curved, the back is curved and the seats are curved. The style is characterized by elaborate decorative carving. Louis XV is often called the rococo style. "Rococo" is derived from the French word for stone "rocaille" and shells "coquilles", as these are often motifs in the carving. Furniture from this period could be easily moved around for gatherings.

Resolute Desk

The Resolute Desks

The Resolute desk is a large, nineteenth-century partners' desk often chosen by presidents of the United States for use in the White House as the Oval Office desk. It was a gift from Queen Victoria to President Rutherford B. Hayes in 1880 and was built from the timbers of the British arctic exploration ship Resolute. Franklin Roosevelt had a small door built for the gap to prevent people from seeing his wheelchair. Many presidents since Hayes have used the desk at various locations in the White House, but it was Jackie Kennedy who first brought the desk into the Oval Office in 1961 for President John F. Kennedy.

Tapewire Instruction Book

TAPEWIRE INSTRUCTION BOOK

The clearest and most concise book on tape wiring yet written. Contains everything from a master layout drawing to instructions on the installation of all electrical components. Includes detailed "how to" illustrations on connecting wires to a plug, folding corners, wiring through hinges and "double bradding". Gives many shortcuts and money saving ideas.

CK1015-2

Round Wire Instruction Book

ROUND WIRE INSTRUCTION BOOK

This handbook is the most comprehensive and detailed manual on round wiring ever published. It explains, in easy to understand language, an entirely new concept in round wiring of a dollhouse. Illustrations abound depicting the wiring installation process, step-by-step.

A remarkable new technique also reveals, for the first time, how any lighting fixture may be removed and replaced in the event of lamp failure. The instructions cover both open back and open front type dollhouses. Also explained are the two methods of wiring; surface wiring for the finished or antique type dollhouse and the groove method for dollhouses under construction.

LIGHTING THE WAY WITH CIR-KIT CONCEPTS'

In this video we introduce our new color-coded tapewire and describe how its use helps in making an error-free wiring system. Computer animation is used extensively as an aid to understanding basic wiring concepts and in the development of a house wiring diagram.

Filmed and produced by a professional film studio it reflects the high standards and dedication to excellence that have become a hallmark of the Cir-Kit Concept's name.

You'll see how a dollhouse is wired in stages and how easily such accessories as outlets, switches, sconces and chandeliers may be installed even after wallpapering for a completely finished look.

This is a must-see video for anyone wiring a dollhouse, even if you're a wiring pro. Let it be your first step towards creating a lighted masterpiece.

SWIVEL-HEAD FLASHLIGHT

There is perhaps nothing more frustrating than working inside an unlit dollhouse room. Whether it's during the construction process or when wiring it's no fun working in the dark. That's where our new swivel-head flashlight comes to the rescue. This unique device with its rotating head, small size, and bright, wide beam makes it the perfect answer for lighting even the smallest of dollhouse rooms. Simply place in room and point in any direction where illumination is required. Its compact size makes it easy to carry in either a pocket or purse. An attached clip on the back also makes it convenient to carry on a belt. Use this uniquely styled flashlight in your car, at the office or in your home; wherever a quick, bright light is required.

Measures 3 1/4" high by 1 1/2" wide by 3/4" deep. Requires two easily replaceable AA batteries, not included.

AWL

This tool has been designed specifically for placement of tyelets. The awl is first used to make starter holes where eyelets are desired. The eyelet is then slipped over the awl insertion pin and pushed into place. It provides an extremely simple method of making electrical connections in hard to reach dollhouse locations.

CK1044

(4-Pack)

A hollow compartment in the metal shank provides storage for the four insertion pins. Overall length is approximately 5/8". Instructions on package.

BULB EXTRACTOR

Some chandeliers are designed in such a manner as to make bulb removal nearly impossible. The Bulb Extractor simplifies this effort and makes light work out of a previously difficult task. Simply slide down over bulb, twist it and remove the bulb.

Flexible teeth adjust to grip the wide variances that exist in bulb design and manufacture. The hollow rubber tip on the opposite end may be used for gripping bulbs when only the tips are exposed. It may also be removed for tight access locations. Use with all screw-base type flame-tip bulbs.

MINI DRILL

This drill has been specifically designed for the hobbyist who must work with all types of material. The overall length is a mere 4½" making it very maneuverable. The solid brass chuck is continuously adjustable and accepts all number size bits from 61 through 80. No key is needed since chuck may be completely tightened by hand. Another feature is its hollow handle for storage of bits.

JEWELER'S SCREWDRIVERS

This set of five nickel-plated jeweler's screwdrivers has been designed with heads that swivel and blades that are permanently affixed to a knurled handle. Shaft blades range from widths of .049" to .079" with overall lengths between 3" and 3¾".

No. 66 Bit

C. CK1025-2
½" Bit

D. CK1025
No. 70 Bit

E. CK1025-1
No. 75 Bit

These tiny bits are helpful aids for installing any of the wiring and lighting fixtures.

Their use greatly enhances and simplify installation in all types of wood.

The No. 55 bit is used in making starter holes for the CK801 eyelets and for the small hollow eyelets used at tape run interconnect points. Measures .052" in diameter.

The No. 66 wire-size bit is used principally for making the proper size hole for "fixture" and "circuit" type wires. Measures .033" in diameter.

The ½" bit provides the proper size hole for wall scone wires. This hole allows the pulling of scone wires through a wall and electrically connecting them into a conductive tape run on the opposite side of a wall. (The wires are inserted into copper strip holes made with either a push pin or No. 70 bit.)

The No. 70 bit may be used in place of a push pin for making .028" holes in copper tape runs. This size hole allows easy bradding of either a 12-volt GOW or wire terminal bulb into a conductive tape run.

The No. 75 bit allows drilling of small .021" holes at tape juncture points for easy insertion of ⅛" brads in hardwood or Masonite structures. (May also be used for outlet and switch nails.) The drilling of holes simplifies brad installation and assures a tight electrical fit between the brad and copper strip.

All bits may be used with either a ¼" electric drill or the CK201 Mini Drill.

PILOT HOLE PUNCH

The Pilot Hole Punch provides a convenient method of making starter holes for brass brads at all electrical interconnection points. The diameter of the punching tip is smaller than the smallest brad used, thus reducing the risk of punching excessively large holes in the copper foil tape runs. This ensures the correct size hole for electrical connection.

The metal end may be removed for use in locations which might otherwise be awkward or hard to reach. The locking chuck provides an easy method of needle replacement in the event of breakage.

HAMMER

The CK1041 hammer, as shown, has been specially designed and manufactured for Cir-Kit Concepts to aid and simplify the brass brad and eyelet installation process. Its size and weight allow easy use in even the most remote corners of a dollhouse.

Only 5½" long, the hammer has a solid brass head and a deeply serrated steel handle for a positive grip.

Ideal for a number of miniature building projects!

PLIERS

Excellent for holding and inserting 1/8" brass brads in the various tape installation steps, these pliers have proven to be one of the most convenient tools available to the tape wiring installer.

CK1042
Short Nose Pliers

The pliers have serrated teeth on both jaws, a self-contained spring for easy opening and plastic-coated handles for a comfortable hold.

The Test Probe can be used at any point along a conductive tape run for electrical testing or finding tape under wallpaper.

Simply push the needles into the copper strips and, if electricity is present, the enclosed bulb will light. The .175" pin spacing makes this handy tool useable with any tape system.

Overall length approximately 2".

BRAD PLACEMENT TOOL

Over the years, the use of tapewire has become the predominant world-wide method of dollhouse wiring.

Its versatility and ease of installation has made it the dollhouse electrician's method of choice. However, to achieve low-profile corners, it is necessary to use tiny 1/8" brass brads to create the necessary electrical interconnection. Although these brads serve this purpose very well, they can be frustrating to hold and install.

That's where our new CK1054 Brad Placement Tool comes in. With this tool the brad can be held firmly in place as it is inserted into the tape run. No more lost brads or blue language.

They are manufactured of stainless steel with a plastic coated handle for a lifetime of operation. The CK1054 should be a must for every tape wiring toolbox.

Transformers

Our plug-in transformers provide a safe and convenient AC power source for any dollhouse or miniature room. All Cir-Kit Concepts' transformers are designed to plug directly into a powered outlet, thus eliminating the need of building a special transformer enclosure within the dollhouse.

The most popular versions contain a built-in thermal circuit breaker making them virtually burn-out proof. In the event of an overload or short, the thermal breaker simply opens and removes voltage until the unit cools. After cooling, the breaker resets itself and automatically reapplies voltage to the output.

U.S./Canadian Transformers

These transformers have straight blade pins and are designed primarily for the U.S., Canada, and Mexico, as well as certain other countries, such as Japan.

Transformer Lead-In Wires

TRANSFORMER LEAD-IN WIRES

A. TRANSFORMER LEAD-IN WIRE

The CK1008 lead-in wire provides a transformer to dollhouse electrical interconnection and may be used with any screw-terminal type transformer. One end of the wire is equipped with a plug for connection to a Junction Splice on the dollhouse and the other with spade lugs for connection to the transformer output terminals. Overall length approximately 6 feet.

B. TRANSFORMER LEAD-IN WIRE (with switch)

This lead-in wire may be used for those installations requiring the convenience of total dollhouse on/off power control. (Eliminates need for unplugging lead-in wire from dollhouse to disconnect power.) Same in all other respects as CK1008.

C. TRANSFORMER LEAD-IN WIRE (with switch and spade lugs)

Use this lead-in wire in any application requiring spade lugs at both ends, i.e., transformers to terminal blocks. Contains an in-line switch and is identical in all other respects to CK1008-1.

D. TRANSFORMER LEAD-IN WIRE (with switch and fuseholder)

Same as CK1008-1 but with added in-line fuseholder. Can be used for protection of any transformer with screw terminals. The fuseholder is a threaded assembly and accepts all Cir-Kit fuses.

Voltage Regulator

VOLTAGE REGULATOR (NOW WITH TERMINALS)

CK1016
Voltage Regulator

The Cir-Kit Concepts' voltage regulator is a remarkable and innovative device which will greatly extend the life expectancy of any 12-volt bulb. The most significant restriction to long bulb life is the presence of excessive operating voltages. A relatively small increase in voltage may reduce a bulb's life by a factor of ten or more. Most commercial transformers start with a higher voltage at no load and typically provide the stated output voltage when supplying the rated output wattage. As would be experienced with any similar transformer, the Cir-Kit Concepts' transformers present voltages between 13 and 14 volts when lightly loaded. Only when loaded with ten or more bulbs can an acceptable output voltage be realized. To obtain this voltage when using 1 to 9 bulbs, a device such as the Cir-Kit Concepts' voltage regulator is recommended. This unique device automatically changes value as bulbs are added or subtracted from the system, thus maintaining a proper voltage across the connected bulbs. The automatic regulation feature allows this one simple device to take the place of several discrete resistors which would otherwise be required to obtain similar results. Equipped with terminal connectors; the lead-wire need not be cut as before. Detailed instructions included. Max. current rating of 540 ma.

Voltage Regulator Hookup

Not required:

- When 10 bulbs or more are installed.
- For 14 or 16-volt bulbs.
- During construction when fewer than 10 bulbs may be temporarily in place.

JUNCTION SPLICE

CK1007
Junction Splice

The CK1007 Junction Splice serves as the juncture point for connecting the lead-in wire to a tape run. The imbedded nails, in addition to holding the connector in place, also establish electrical contact between the tapewire and the male pins on the lead-in wire plug. It is simply placed over the tape run and pounded in. Two sets of protruding teeth on the bottom also provide additional paths for current flow into the copper foils. The threaded screw aids in locking the junction splice in place and prevents accidental dislodgement during use.

JUNCTION SPLICE EXTENDER

If you wish to install your Junction Splice in a less conspicuous location, such as under the dollhouse, use this extender for easy electrical access. Simply plug it into the Junction Splice and run the cord out for mating with the lead-in wire. The extender cord is 18" in length and is equipped with special, insulated wire sockets for connection to the lead wire plug. Instructions included.

Christmas Tree Lighting

These carefully screened lights are available either in assembled strings of 12, 24, 36 And 48 clear or mixed color bulbs. The bulbs are GOR size ($\frac{3}{16}$ " long by $\frac{3}{32}$ " or less in diameter) or smaller to resemble scale-size Christmas tree lights. All bulb wires are green to assure a compatible Christmas tree color match.

The bulbs are spaced at 1" intervals. Two 12" green lead wires allow connection to power anywhere within the Christmas tree room. Construction of the string is such that the first bulb can be place atop the tree with the remainder wound in concentric circles toward the bottom.

The wired strings are directly interconnected with a continuous unbroken wire between bulbs to eliminate any possibility of an open connection.

Adapter Cords

ADAPTER CORDS

These cords have been developed primarily for those instances where running power by wire may be more convenient than running it with tape; for example, where two miniature rooms are to be electrically connected together and work from one transformer. Another use might be between the top floor of a dollhouse and a removable roof or attic section. Headless brass pins are supplied with the CK1028 and CK1028-1 cords and are pounded into the tape runs to be joined. The plugs are then plugged into the pins to establish the interconnection.

The CK1028-5 Bridging Cord is used for interconnecting two tape mounted CK1007 Junction Splices (not included). Its use provides an extremely easy to install and low profile connection when completed.

The connecting cords are 18" long and illustrated instructions are provided with each package.

Tapewire

Double conductor tapewire is the "heart" of all Cir-Kit wiring systems.

From its introduction in 1976 to the present it has been the predominant method of dollhouse wiring. Its use creates a printed circuit type layout and completely eliminates the congested wiring found in conventional systems. A super strong adhesive, exposed by the removal of a peel away paper carrier, ensures a secure grip on any surface.

Color coding of the copper foils greatly simplifies the making of corners during the wiring process. Brass brads are installed only at the blue-to-blue and copper-to-copper overlap points, eliminating any possibility of short circuits.

Another problem that occurs with other, lesser quality brands of tapewire is "bubbling". As time passes, the transparent overlay begins to buckle causing ripples that eventually show through the wallpaper or paint coverings. Using a special manufacturing process, Cir-Kit Concepts has completely eliminated this problem. A tape run made today will appear as straight and true in a year as the day it was laid. The Cir-Kit Concepts' name is also embossed on the natural copper foil to identify it as the one and only Cir-Kit Concepts' tapewire product.

The main body of the tape is 5/8" wide with a total thickness of approximately .005". The copper foils will carry up to 5 amperes of continuous current.

Clear Heat Shrink Tubes
12 Pack

These shrink tubes provide a means of connecting 32-gauge wires such as GOW bulb wires together without the use of solder. The shrink tube is simply slid over one of the wires to be joined, the bared wires twisted together, and the shrink tube slid back over the connection. Once in place a very small amount of heat may be used to shrink the tube and create a tight, insulated connection for the wires.

The inside diameter is .040" or just slightly larger than the insulation on a GOW bulb wire. The wall thickness is approximately .002" (the thickness of transparent tape). The end result is an extremely small diameter splice once the tube has been heated, giving a very unobtrusive electrical connection. Measures approximately 1/2" long.

Use these larger heat shrink tubes for interconnecting heavier gauge wires. Each tube is black in color, measures approximately 1" in length and shrinks to 1/2 the original size when heated.

Switches

MINIATURE SLIDE SWITCH

CK1011
Miniature Slide Switch

The CK1011 is designed with a smooth sliding outer body to achieve the "on/off" operation. Why this departure from conventional logic? Smoothness of operation and low-profile appearance. CK1023-6 spring-loaded eyelets are provided to allow the easiest of installations. Simply install the eyelets and push in the switch. No pounding required.

The fully illustrated instructions included with each switch ensures a successful installation every time.

600 ma current rating.

Each package also contains ¼" brass brads for use as marker pins when wall-papering.

SMALL SLIDE SWITCH

CK1048-1
Small Slide Switch

Our small SPDT slide switch is well suited for round wire systems involving soldered connections in imbedded locations. It may be located in a wall cutout for either room or complete doll-house power control. Measures ⅝" long by ⅜" wide by ⅜" deep.

BRASS SWITCH PLATE COVER

CK1011A
Switch Plate Cover
Decorative Brass

Add a finishing touch to all your CK1011 switches. This distinctive brass plate simply snap fits over the switch to give it a rich and decorative appearance. The protruding toggle enhances the "on/off" operation and provides an added look of realism.

IN-LINE SWITCH

CK1048
In-Line Switch

Use this switch wherever on/off power control is desired. It may be used on either 12 or 115 volt lines with zip type cords between 16 and 20 gauge. No soldering, only a screwdriver and wire cutter are required for assembly. To connect, disassemble the switch, cut a segment from one conductor, install wires in the switch, and reassemble. Sharp teeth inside the switch make the necessary electrical contacts.

SMALL HOLLOW EYELETS

These hollow eyelets provide an easy and convenient alternative to the "brass bradding" of tape runs. Their larger size and ease of handling greatly simplifies the electrical connection process. They may be used as a substitute for 1/8" brass brads in almost all applications. To install, first make a starter hole using either our No. 55 drill bit or the CK1044 Awl. Next, place the eyelet in the hole and push in for a quick and absolutely positive electrical connection.

Eyelets are brass and measure approximately 1/8" long with an inside diameter of .044" and outside diameter of .056". Packaged in quantities of 20 and 110.

LARGE HOLLOW EYELETS

Most imported lamps come equipped with a larger but not to scale Hong Kong type plug. For those not wishing to discard this plug, our CK1023-2 eyelets provide a simple alternative. First, using the plug attached to the lamp as a guide, mark two holes on the tape run. Then, using either the CK1044 Awl or a No. 52 drill bit, make two starter holes and insert the eyelets. The lamp plug may now be directly inserted, making for an attractively flush and easy to install outlet.

BRADS

Our 1/8" brads are some of the smallest in the world. When folded corners in a tape run are not desired these small, precisely made brads provide a very unobtrusive and effective means of establishing electrical connection. GOR & GOW Lights

GOW/GOR LIGHT BULBS

These high quality bulbs are excellent for illuminating any part of a dollhouse or miniature room. Bulb wires may be attached to our miniature plugs or directly bradded into tape runs with $\frac{1}{8}$ " brass brads.

The 12-volt bulbs should be used in locations where bright illumination is necessary and the 16-volt bulbs in areas where a soft, non-glaring light is preferred. The grain-of-rice (GOR) bulbs are ideal for those applications where minimum bulb size is desirable.

The grain-of-wheat (GOW) bulb measures approximately $\frac{1}{8}$ " in diameter and the GOR bulb approximately $\frac{1}{32}$ ". These bulbs are made with some of the smallest insulated wires available. Great attention has also been given to making the wire connections at the base of the bulb as unnoticeable as possible.

The CK1020 series of 1.5 volt bulbs may be used as is across a CK1009G transformer or as replacement bulbs for Christmas tree strings.

The CK1010-18 series of 3.0 volt bulbs may be used as replacement bulbs for any 3.0 volt lighting fixture.

PHOTO 1. The Deluxe Materials AERO TECH dispenser gun is especially for use with the 50ml AERO TECH cartridge & nozzles. The 50ml cartridges are easily slid into place & the trigger action facilitates easy extrusion of epoxy.

PHOTO 2. Bonding in Formers. Applying ready mixed AERO TECH epoxy right to where it is wanted is easy with the 8cm nozzles. It is non-drip & visible when applied. Working time can be extended for 2-3 hours by storing nozzles in the freezer.

All Asphalt Shingles Available in All colors And All Styles

* How to apply asphalt roofing *******

You will need:

- sharp scissors
- a tacky wood glue (or hot glue gun)
- a good eye for symmetry

- 1.) Lay the first row upside down flush along the bottom row of your roofing area.
- 2.) With the left side of your strip, and cut off any excess.
- 3.) Lay the second row parallel to it and translated up by about half an inch, to line up the top of the tab slot with the top of the previous row.
The edge of the shingle strip should line up with the edge of the roof, but likely only for this row.
- 4.) Lay the third row staggered over to the left by about half a shingle, lined up the same way, with a small section of the strip overhanging the roof.
Cut this section off, trimmed to the roof edge.

- 5.) Lay the fourth row so that it is lined up with the second row's shingles as exactly as possible, and then the fifth row lined up with the third, and so on.
Optional: For a sturdier roof bond, use staples to secure the strip, on sections which will be covered by the next row.
- 6.) When nearing the roof peak, cut a strip to meet flush with the edge if necessary.
Make sure the opposite side of the roof is finished the same way before continuing.
- 7.) To cap the roof, cut off single squares, fold them evenly in half, and glue them overlapping the previous shingle by 1/4" along the roof peak.
Optional: For a neat, pressed look to your freshly glued shingles, lay a board on top and apply weight until the glue dries

Ther Lovelia Rug Collection

Exciting News!!

Aztec Imports has just come into the possession of a quantity of Heirloom dollhouse rugs that have been languishing in a warehouse on the east coast for 10 years. You may recall seeing these rugs in the market years ago. Lovelia Albright went to Europe to design these rugs with 5th and 6th generation Atiliers. Many were woven on 100 year old looms and most are 100% wool. Some are 100% cotton (the thin Gobelin style that were woven on old Jacquard looms used for tapestries). Some were woven in Belgium from synthetic fibre to get the detail exact. The line was called "The Lovelia Collection" and it was distributed by Dee's Delights, Gerald Shanin Company, and Foley and Robinson. We are able to offer them to you at THE SAME PRICE THAT THEY WERE TEN YEARS AGO.

We have from a few pieces to several hundred pieces of each style in stock.

Once these are gone they cannot be replaced.

HISTORIC WALLCOVERINGS BY BIRGE. This wallpaper is from an old Colonial home in Scarsdale, NY. A careful study shows that this is one of the purest early French type and takes us back to that time when Marie Antoinette refused to accept the bold and garish styles set by Madam de Pompadour and was influential in creating the refined and delicate style of Louis XVI.

Spanish Style

Spanish furniture was much heavier than Italian or French and during the 17th Century trestle supports were used more than legs on benches and stools. Often they would have iron braces to strengthen the item and for decorative purposes.

This exquisite table has a rectangular top with a hand carved banding around all sides. The apron is decorated with a floral design carving and in each corner a small carved bracket has been incorporated under the table top. The tall banded lye shaped trestle ends supporting the table sit on ball and claw feet. A carved medallion joins the two cyma curves that form the lye shape and the faux metal iron brace acts as a spreader bar between the trestle ends.

Spanish Refectory

During the 16th century, Spanish design was a unique blend of Renaissance and Moorish design.

In this table (or escritorio) we see how the two styles have been combined with a simple, square edged, plank table top and heavy carving on the table skirt and drawer fronts. Referred to as a long table, a term that supersedes the name refractory table which once applied to a table of this size but was changed C 1540 after the abolishment of the monasteries during the reformation, is supported on ring turned spindle legs with spreader bar just above floor level. The four drawer fronts are decorated with a leaf carving and have ring style drawer pulls. A similar carving has been repeated on the remaining three sides of the table apron.

Carving was the main ornamentation of the Italian Renaissance furniture. Perfectly proportioned, exquisitely detailed, the legs on this cabinet are gunbarrel turned and the carved ornament consists mainly of faceted lozenge shapes. The back legs are plain rectangular characteristic even on extremely ornate pieces of furniture c1670. The idea that the description Court has royal connotations is almost certainly wrong the word court is French for short and refers to the low height of the cabinet. The spreader bar at the bottom and sides of the cabinet are fluted as is the front edge of the middle shelf. The sides of the top section are enclosed by three spindals on either side. The centre Baluster is decorated under the middle shelf with a finial. Available in a walnut finish.

English 1850 During this period English furniture, in the domestic setting, was a symbol of status and wealth; it was the decoration of the furniture that made furniture valuable. The front panel opens down to create an enclosed storage space under the table top in place of an under the table shelf. The sides of the table fold down so that the table can be stored in a small space. Available in a walnut finish.

17th c. Chess Table

The first specialist game table was introduced in the late 17th century. This specialist chess table is a reproduction from George 1st era oval in shape with a chess board in the centre and room on either side of the board to place the chess pieces in play. A brass gallery around each end of the table prevents the chess pieces from falling off the table during play. A drawer at the front and back of the table was used to store chess pieces, dice and scoring pads. The drawer fronts are decorated with a rectangular raised cock bead around the 2 brass drawer knobs. A raised carving around the ends of the table under the gallery is decorated with a raised cock bead to match the decoration on the drawer fronts. The 4 turned fluted legs are fitted with casters. A set of black and white hand made chess pieces are included with the table.

Available in a walnut finish.
